Purpose of this Document

The purpose of this document is to concisely explain the overall structure of the Young Democrats of America in a manner that is far more accessible and digestible for our members and the general public. This document may not be able to explain every facet or aspect of the structure and processes of the Young Democrats of America and we encourage readers to refer to the Charter, Bylaws, and Standing Rules (which are the organization’s governing documents) for answers that require greater specificity. You can find a link to the Charter, Bylaws, and Standing Rules of the Young Democrats of America on our website (www.yda.org) in the overhead menu.

Introduction and Organizational Background

The Young Democrats of America (YDA) is the largest youth-led, partisan political organization in the nation. The Young Democrats of America mobilizes young people under the age of 36 to participate in the electoral process to elect Democrats, influence the ideals of the Democratic Party, advocate for progressive issues, and train the next generation of progressive leaders. The Young Democrats of America has been the official youth arm of the Democratic Party since its founding in 1932.

The YDA has over 150,000 members nation-wide in chapters in 46 states and U.S. territories – including high-school and college students, young workers, young professionals, and young families – Our membership reflects the broad diversity of our nation and the Democratic Party.

Since 2002, the YDA has operated independently of the Democratic National Committee (DNC) as a nonfederal 527 political organization, while maintaining voting representation on the DNC through the YDA President, and two elected Democratic National Committee-people. The President of YDA also serves on the DNC Executive Committee.
Organizational Formation and Condensed History

Although several state organizations preceded the national organization, the Young Democrats of North Carolina, led by Tyre Taylor, can probably claim to be the founding fathers of the Young Democrats of America. In the Spring of 1931, Tyre obtained the names of Young Democrats in other states and sent letters asking them to discuss the idea of a national Young Democratic organization.

On March 4 – 5, 1932, the first national organizational meeting was held in Washington D.C., with delegates from 27 states and the District of Columbia present. One of the first articles of agreement stipulated there should be no distinction in membership and privileges between men and women.

The Young Democratic Clubs of America (YDCA) was formally organized, but later in the year, over 600 people attended the first formal national meeting held at the DNC National Convention in Chicago, IL. Shortly thereafter, the DNC adopted the Young Democratic Clubs of America as the official youth organization of the Democratic Party.

The first national convention was held in Kansas City, Missouri in 1933 and the most recent convention was held in Indianapolis Indiana from July 17th through July 20th, 2019; the Young Democrats of America has held 42 National Conventions in total. There were no conventions held during the Second World War in 1943 and 1945.

Marie Prezioso of West Virginia was elected as the first female President of the Young Democrats at the 1985 YDA National Convention in Miami, Florida. Atima Omara-Alwala of Virginia was elected as the first African American President of the Young Democrats at the 2013 YDA National Convention in San Antonio, Texas.
National Committee

National Committee is the governing body of the YDA between National Convention; the Committee has broad authority except for powers reserved to the National Convention (e.g. electing officers other than the National Committee Representatives and approving the Platform).

Membership

The National Committee fluctuates in the size of its membership but typically is compromised from 150 to 175 individuals. Individuals who hold multiple voting positions are only entitled to one vote on the National Committee. The National Committee is comprised of the following individuals:

- YDA National Officers
- Region Directors
- Chairs of Constituency and Issues Caucus
- Chairs of YDA Select and Standing Committees
- State and Territorial Presidents of Chartered Units
- 2 National Committee Representatives (not of the same gender identity) from each Chartered State and Territory

Meeting Notice and Requirements

The National Committee meets during National Conferences that are held at least twice per year. National Committee Meetings must alternate between the East and West sides of the Mississippi River. National Committee Meetings must be announced by the YDA with at least 90-day notice to the YDA National Committee and the general public. Being a member of the National Committee does not prevent individuals from registering and participating in other events and activities at Meetings such as attending workshops & trainings, hearing speeches from elected prominent Democrats, and participating in social events/outings.
Proxies

Members of the National Committee who cannot attend a meeting are able to send proxies to other Young Democrats to vote in their stead. Individuals who do not hold a voting position vote on the National Committee may only carry two proxies at one time (allowing two votes total). Individuals who already hold a voting position vote on the National Committee also may only carry two proxies at one time (allowing three votes total). Proxy Forms may be submitted electronically to the YDA Secretary and Credentials Committee Chair. If Proxies are submitted in person or by mail they require to be notarized. Proxy Forms can be submitted electronically or in person an hour before any scheduled first meeting of the Standing Committee on Credentials. Proxy submissions by mail should be sent at least 5 days before any meeting in order to ensure its timely arrival.

Standing Committees

The National Committee has a Standing Committee on Resolutions, Rules, Campaigns, Legislation and Credentials. Each state or territory can send one delegate to these committees to be their voting representative; state or territorial leadership can designate who that representative is. All work of the Standing Committee is forwarded in the form of a “Report” to the representatives of the National Committee for approval. A quorum of a Standing Committee consists of representatives from 25% of chartered units.

Meetings

Some of the things that the YDA Charter, Bylaws, and Standing Rules requires or allows the National Committee to do during meeting is as follows:

- Approve proxies of National Committee Members
- Approve various resolutions
- Amend and adopt Charter, Bylaws, and Standing Rules
- Approve Stakeholder Members (before July in even-numbered years)
- Elect Democratic National Committeeman and Committeewoman (before July in even-numbered years)
- Any other relevant business that comes before the body

A quorum of the National Committee consists of representatives from 25% of chartered units.

Conference Calls

The National Committee may also meet via conference call or by some other videoconference software at the discretion of the President. These conference calls usually include important updates from YDA Elected and Appointed Officers and can often feature a guest speaker. National Committee conference calls happen usually on a monthly or semiregular basis (e.g. every 6 weeks).

Votes By Mail or Internet
Sometimes an urgent matter or issue arises that requires the National Committee to take action in a more immediate fashion, usually in the time in between in-person meetings of the National Committee. Any member of the National Committee can create a petition to call for votes by mail or internet. Petitions need to have the signatures of at least 25% of the National Committee for a vote by mail or internet to take place. Once the required number of signatures have been gathered, the petition is then turned into the YDA Secretary. Matters normally handled at meetings of the National Committee to the members of the National Committee through the mail, or by means of electronic voting, provided that the following provisions apply:

1. The petition must be submitted by a current and eligible member of the National Committee.
2. At least one opportunity for open, un-muted and un-censored debate must occur prior to the beginning of the voting period. Notice for debate on a petition shall be announced no less than 7 days to all members of the National Committee.
3. Members shall have at least 11 days to return their ballot, and within 5 days after the close of balloting, the list of members voting, and their votes cast shall be distributed to the National Committee.
4. Any vote shall be void unless ballots are returned by a majority (i.e. 50% plus 1) of the members of the National Committee.
5. Any member whose credentials were revoked at a previous National Committee meeting, or whose voting power was suspended at a previous National Committee meeting may not cast a ballot in a mail or electronic vote, and may not have their signature applied to the petition threshold, until such time as their vote has been restored.
6. Voting must be made available through postal mail or fax to any member upon request to the Secretary.
7. Voting must be done in a manner to ensure that all votes cast bear the signature or electronic signature of the member who cast the vote.
8. Should 20% of the members of the National Committee vote to postpone the matter under consideration until the next conference call meeting of the National Committee, the matter shall be considered tabled until that time.
9. Should 25% of the members of the National Committee vote to postpone the matter under consideration until the next in-person meeting of the National Committee, the matter shall be considered tabled until that time.
10. The election of Officers and the confirmation of Presidential Appointments can not be done through a vote by mail or the internet.

National Convention

The National Convention is highest authority within YDA. The National Convention is held biennially in July or August in odd numbered years. National Conventions must be announced by the YDA with at least 60-day notice to the YDA National Committee and the general public.

The National Convention is the highest attended YDA event as every state is allotted delegate spots based on a formula that factors in the size of their state, their involvement in YDA, and various other variables.

The National Convention is planned by a Convention Procedures Committee and the convention itself is run by the Convention Management Committee who work closely with the Convention Chair, Secretary, Parliamentarian, Sergeant-at-Arms, and the various leaders of the Convention Committees. All these various positions are appointed by the President who are confirmed by the National Committee.

Delegates

Delegates are individuals chosen to represent their state or territory at the YDA National Convention. Each state or territory is responsible for creating a process for delegate selection. Being a delegate means you participate in Convention business like General Session, Committees, and Voting but also allows an individual to attend workshops & trainings, hear speeches from elected prominent Democrats, and participate in social events/outings.

Since 2019, each delegate can receive at least 3 votes at minimum and a maximum of 7 votes for YDA National Officer elections based on their state or territory’s distance to the convention site. The largest possible size of a state or territorial delegation is currently 37 (this is also dependent on a variety of factors); the vast majority states or territories would not need to bring this many people to cast all their allocated votes. Each state or territory chapter has the ability to submit a list of approved delegates to YDA but if those delegates do not show up then anyone who registers may be awarded delegate status. Delegate status does not prevent individuals from registering and participating in other events and activities at the National Convention.
Convention Committees

The National Convention has a Standing Committee on Platform, Rules, and Credentials. Each state or territory can send one delegate to these committees to be their voting representative; state or territorial leadership can designate who that representative is. All work of the Standing Committees is forwarded in the form of a “Report” to the delegates of the National Convention for approval.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for selecting, supervising, and managing the employment of any and all paid staff members. The Board of Directors also reviews staff performance, awards raises and bonuses, and adopts human resources and staff management policies.
